Future Business Leaders Of America

The 1988 Nauvoo-Colusa Chapter raised its enrollment from 16 to 34, or 112% from 1987. The group was pleased with this accomplishment and members look forward to further increasing the number in the future years. The year began with a pizza party and movie night, which was enjoyed by all. In October members participated in a hayrack ride and bonfire at the home of a member. In November, the group went bowling and in December they visited the local dance club. State Senator Laura Kent Donahue spoke to F.B.L.A. in January to begin its 1988 activities. She discussed her own employment opportunities as a young adult, as well as expressing her views on what the future holds. On February 4, the group traveled to Macomb to compete at the Western Area F.B.L.A. Conference. Members brought home firsts in Business English, Word processing, Mr. and Ms. F.B.L.A., and Accounting II. Members were pleased to receive six second places, three third places, four fourth places, and four fifth places.

From l to r: Spencer Berry - President, Kevin Nuebel - Vice-President, Curtis Kentch - Secretary, Keith Fuller - Treasurer, Linda Hamman - Reporter, Jamie Harman - Sentenial.

There were twenty-four members in the Future Farmers of America Club (FFA) in 1987-88. They participated in Soil Judging contests, Parlimentary Procedure, and Crop Judging. Ray Polhans won a fourth place in Soil Judging and Tim Delong won a seventh place in Soil Judging and a third place in a Parlimentary Procedure contest. Brian Schmitz placed fifth in Parlimentary Procedure.

The members of FFA have a field for growing crops. They all get to participate in combining the field in the fall and taking loads of grain to the elevator.

Student Council

The Nauvoo-Colusa Student Council was comprised of seventeen hard-working members in the 1987-88 school year. Activities began in October with a successful costume dance. The council also traveled to Hamilton High School to assist with the Area College Night. In January, the council presented a tremendous "Cops and Robbers" Homecoming. The week ended on Saturday with the annual homecoming dance.

In February, the council sponsored "Senior Night," where roses were presented to the parents of graduating seniors who had participated in various activities. In April, the annual student council banquet was held at the Hotel Nauvoo and accomplishments of members were recognized. Another spring activity involved sixth graders from Nauvoo and Saint Peter and Paul Schools coming to the high school to "get acquainted." They were escorted by council members during their tour of the Jr.-Sr. High building.

STUDENT LIBRARY CLUB

The 1987-88 school year was an eventful one for the students in the Nauvoo-Colusa Jr. Sr. High School Student Library Club.

Some new activities were introduced in the club this year. A Teacher's Aide Program began at the start of the second quarter. In the Teacher's Aide Program, the club members help assigned teachers during their study halls. The Student Library Club also sponsored its second successful Book Fair in April.

In April, the club members took a field trip to the Great River Library System Headquarters in Quincy. They also enjoyed the pizza party they had at the end of the year very much!

ARRRRRG!!!

Now let's see what we have here ...

Well Hi there

Yooooo!!

Go home!

The Three Musketeers

Lunch at NCHS

YUM! A tasty treat!

CONGA!!

The "Doug" Monster Invades!

The N-C Executioners

What's up puddy tat?

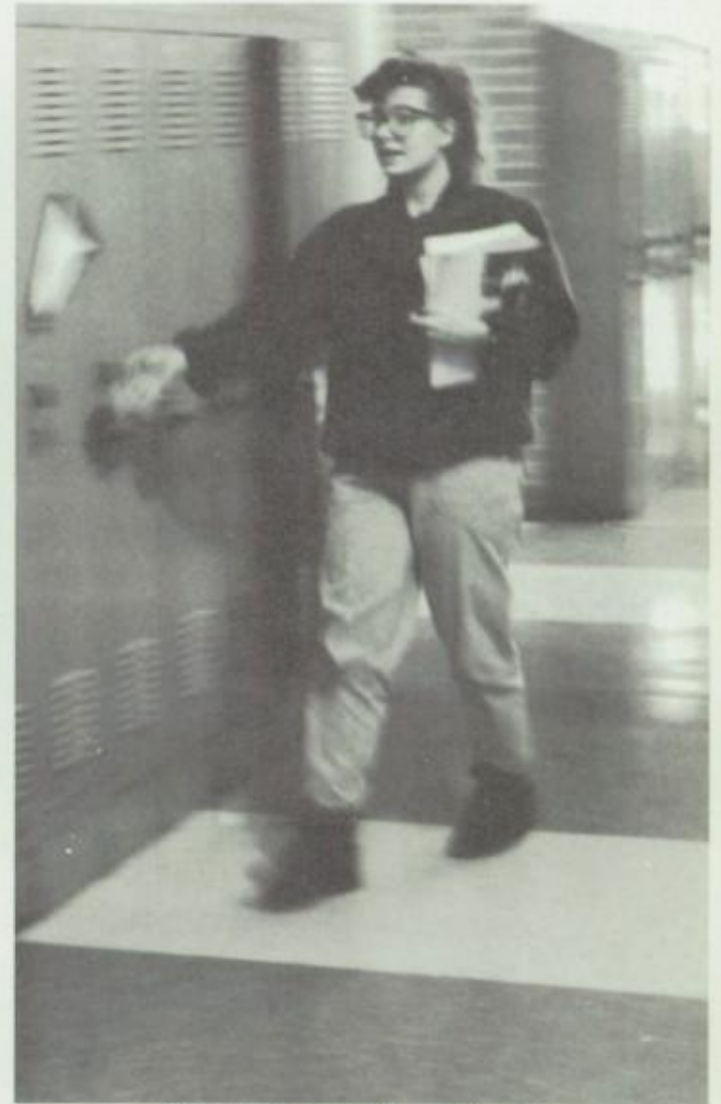

What SHOULD I do?

They're heeerrree!

Next time, you're in the office!

Its a long narrow path . . . education.

Dum-de-dum-de-dum!!!

Inside the mind of a weary principal

Weeeee!!!

Hold the applause.

FREEZE DIRTBAG!!!

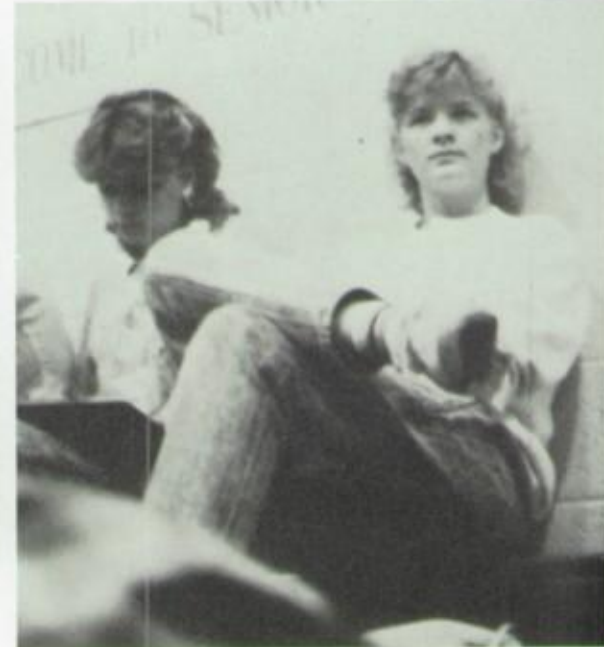

Cheese!

Make my day!

And the guilty party is ...

Space cadet?!?

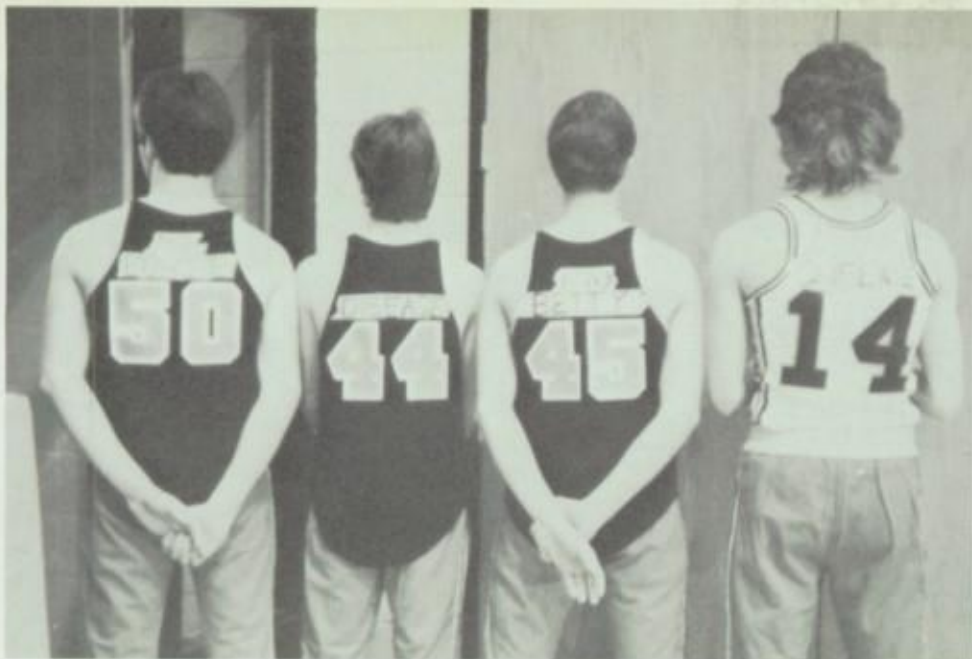

Smile! You're on candid camera!

Everybody cut loose ...

Sleeping beauty.

The line up is ... All right guys, face front.

Thank you. Now, the line up is ...

I need more than a beauty bar.

Hollywood, here we come.

The Cotton Queen of the South - Black Betty!

Mmmm! Delicious!

Hey you, turn around. Aren't you supposed to be with the rest of the line up.

We're twins. Can't you tell?

No, no. I've had quite enough.

Did you say somebody broke out of a psycho-ward???

Twist and Shout!

You are now entering the Twilight Zone.

American Express. Don't leave home without it.

Me-Man and the Misterys of the Universe.

Guess what we heard today?

Wheeee! Wanna ride?

Dum-de-dum-de-dum!!!

Yo! Seconds!

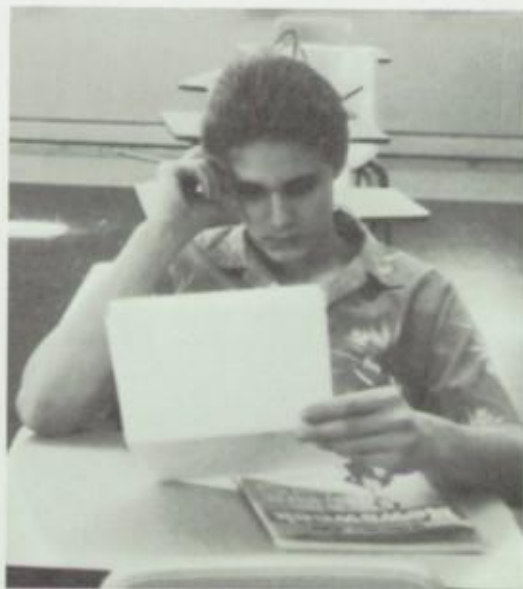

Another letter?

Critics in the stands.

Is this where I'm supposed to be?

Now, if I put that one there, it should work. But then again ...

Awesome! Totally awesome!!

Lost?!?

The snack bar is now open!

I chose Hamburger B because ...

What do you mean by change it?!?

Big cheese.

No need to worry with the police here!

Boom baby!

Saturday Night Fever

We admit it. We're awesome.

Watch out Mary Kay!

High school sweethearts.

We be jammin'.

Like a virgin . . .

Yeah! I'm having lots of fun!

You're cool!

Cheese!

We're casual.

Whooooops!!!

DON'T MESS WITH THE PRINCIPAL.

Pull harder. PULL HARDER!

SURPRISE!!

Don't give me that look.

We're the Three Amigos!

Ladies night out! But who's this?

A man of many thoughts.

Smile. This only happens once a year.

Huh? What was that you said?

Yeah! We're working. What's it look like?

Jammin' out!

Well, isn't that special!

No! My name is not Hester!

I'm big bad Betty.

My name is Friday. It was 11:00 a.m. when ...

What does he have planned for us today?

I think I'm going deaf.

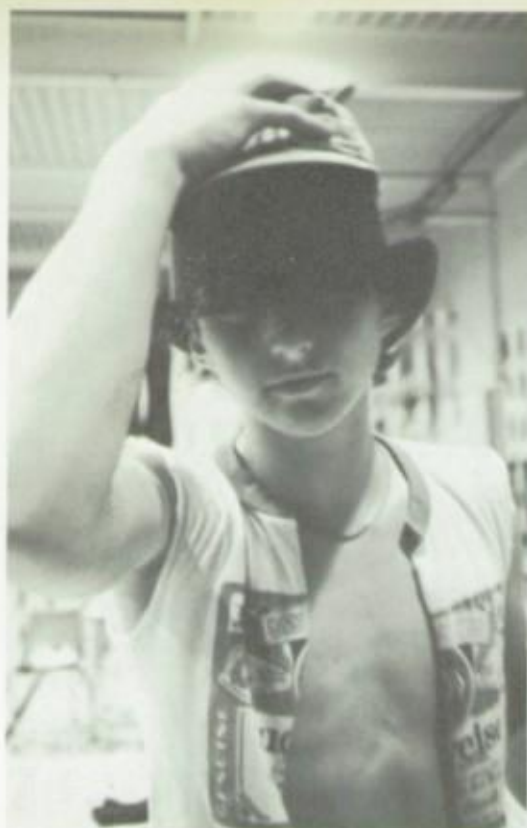

I got the rhythm.

It is amazing what lounge students can accomplish with very little effort.

So, you changed your new shoes?

What a rush!

My mother always told me that if I made this face too often, it would freeze.

My name is not MOOSE!

Can't that second hand move any faster?

Gosh Mr. Yockey, your looks really do improve when you're upside down!

Flunk me now!

Ooooooh! Aren't we so cute?

Now if I only knew what I was doing . . .
